

New york times⁺

What is halloween ?⁺

Méline Goncalves⁺
30 october 2017 - 4:35 pm

Halloween is a contraction of All Hallow's Evening. At first, Halloween was a Celtic pagan festival to celebrate the death of Samhain. People carve pumpkin and dress up too scared evil spirits. Children go door to door asking for food in exchange for praying for the souls of friends or family. Halloween came to America with the immigrants. Now people dress up scary and go trick or treating for having sweets. The best place to celebrate Haloween is Ireland, there are events all across the is. In more and more contries people are doing Haloween. For me Haloween it's a time to be with my friends, eat a lot of sweets and watch an horror movie.